

Andrea Adams

Andrea Adams is an Associate Professor and Chair of Graphic Design at the School of Art and Design at Montgomery College. Professor Adams has an Associate of Fine Arts degree from Northwestern Connecticut Community College, a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting from Syracuse University, and a Master of Fine Arts degree in graphic design from New Mexico State University. She has worked as a publication designer and college professor since 1990. She began teaching at the Maryland College of Art and Design in 1998 and continued with the college through the merger with Montgomery College. She teaches a wide variety of classes in both graphic design and studio arts. A highlight of her experience with MCAD was in 1998-99 when she spent six months at James Hubert Blake High School as Artist-In-Residence working with several MCAD students and high school freshman and sophomore art students to create Hubie Blake's first mural, an 8-by-21 foot celebration of the history of art.
